

CAMORRISTS ARE CHEERFUL

They See Triumph in Alfano's Testimony

GENERALLY SATISFIED

With Progress of Proceedings—Leader Congratulated in Many Messages—More Than Ever Hero in Minds of the Prisoners.

Viterbo, Italy, April 4.—In the cells at the mediaeval monastery of Gradi yesterday, the accused Camorrista gloated over what they described as the triumph of Enrico Alfano in the court of the Assizes Friday and Saturday. As a whole, they are satisfied with the development of the case, and they believe that they will be acquitted of the charge of murdering the Cuocolos without even being obliged to introduce witnesses in their defense.

Alfano, who repeatedly interrupted his interrogation to harangue the court and jury, denying that he was the actual head of the Camorra and proclaiming the innocence of himself and associates, is more than ever a hero in the eyes of his fellow prisoners. He has received many messages of congratulation from Naples. All of the lawyers for the defense visited the prisoner and conferred with their clients during the day.

Giuseppe de Marinis, commonly known as "O Mandrieri," who is charged with planning the murder of Genaro Cuocolo and his wife, will be called for interrogation when the trial is resumed today. He will be the fourth prisoner who bears the scar from a razor slash upon the cheek to be questioned. De Marinis has shouted so much during the examination of others that he is quite hoarse and there is some disappointment because he will not be able to display his oratorical powers to the best advantage.

Giovanni Rapi, treasurer of the Camorra, and known as the proprietor of gambling resorts in Naples, Rome, Paris, and Ostend, said he would propose to appoint him a consul to Egypt, where he proposed to establish a gambling house. At present he said he was the head of the Southern Club of Naples, which was in reality a gambling association.

Kansas City, Mo., April 4.—Twenty-two of the fifty-eight men arrested in yesterday's raids upon the Italian quarter were still held by the police today pending further investigation. The other thirty-six satisfied the officials during the night after grilling questions, that they knew nothing of the murder last Tuesday of Joseph Raimo, an Italian policeman. Raimo is believed to have been the victim of an organized "gang" with headquarters in Kansas City.

ANOTHER FAST FLIGHT.
Vedrine Flies 212 Miles at Rate of 77 Miles an Hour in France.
Paris, April 4.—Pierre Vedrine, who recently flew from Poitiers to Issy les Moulineaux, 191 miles in two hours and twelve minutes, made another remarkable flight yesterday. He left Issy yesterday morning for Pau and landed near Moulins, covering the distance, 212 miles, at the rate of seventy-seven miles an hour. Unfavorable weather compelled him to rise to a height of more than 6000 feet, where he was out of sight of the sun and compass, but, finding that he was losing his way, descended. Vedrine, who resumed his flight from Moulins at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon, landed at Gueret, where he spent the night.

PRISONERS GET DRUGS.
They are Smuggled Into Massachusetts State Institution.
Boston, April 4.—That drugs, including morphine, are smuggled into the state prison, in spite of the efforts to suppress the traffic, was admitted today by Prison Commissioner Pettengrove, who has been investigating the matter at the request of Governor Foss.

Mr. Pettengrove stated that he believed that the Massachusetts prison was no worse than those of other states and declared that the amount of drugs smuggled into the prison was very small.

WOMAN TELLS STORY OF INTENSE SUFFERING

At the age of about 40 years, I was attacked with hemorrhage of the kidneys or bladder which continued for several years without a check. I finally took advantage of your generous offer and procured a sample bottle of Swamp-Root. Believing it helped me, I purchased a fifty-cent bottle, which convinced me that it was helping me. Three other bottles cured me. In two or three years, over-work brought my ailment back, but one bottle stopped it.

I feel as if I owe my life to you for the great blessing Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root has been to me. I recommend it to all human beings suffering as I was. You have my permission to publish this letter and if any person doubts it, if they will write me, enclosing stamp, I will give full particulars.

Yours very truly,
MRS. T. B. PHELPS,

Hands and Arms In Dreadful State

With Eczema—Baby Lay Between Life and Death.

Another Wonderful Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"When my baby was four months old his face broke out with eczema. The doctor said he would soon be all right, but he steadily grew worse and at sixteen months of age, his face, hands and arms were in a dreadful state. The eczema seemed to be spreading all over his body. His face was so sore, we were obliged to put a mask or cloth over it. We were obliged also to tie up his hands and arms to prevent him from scratching the inflamed places. We consulted other doctors, used ointments and salves sent us by friends and neighbors. Some of these things would seem to have some effect, but after a few days would act like a poison, and increase this stubborn disease.

"Just one year ago this month baby lay between life and death. We felt that we must give up trying to find any cure or relief. Our hearts were just breaking, and we had the sympathy of friends and neighbors. Finally my husband said 'I am going to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Olive Ointment.' We began to use these medicines and oh! the results were astonishing! In a few months he was entirely free from that terrible eczema, which had caused him so much suffering. Today he is a fine healthy boy." Mrs. Inez Lewis, Baring, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla effects its wonderful cures, not simply because it contains sarsaparilla but because it combines the utmost remedial values of more than twenty different ingredients, each greatly strengthened and enriched by this peculiar combination. These ingredients are the very remedies successful physicians prescribe for the same diseases and ailments, but they are not all found in any other medicine. Get

There are now about 4,000 Japanese in the island. Australian papers declare colonization of the Pacific islands by Japanese should be resisted.

ONE OF THE BEST.

"The Rosary" Which Was Presented at Barre Opera House.

Easily ranking with the leaders of dramatic productions recently seen at the Barre opera house was Rowland Clifford's "The Rosary," which was given last evening and enjoyed by a large audience. From start to finish the play had strong human interest and held the audience well as presented by a well-rounded cast, headed by Harrington Reynolds as the priest and the central figure, Grace E. Reading, who took the dual role of twin sisters by means of rapid changes in costumes, was called out several times by the audience, while Grace Childers, the winsome colleen, and Eleonora Rella, the girl "from Below Falls, Vt.," who couldn't see a joke, were very pleasing. Billy Champ furnished the numerous humorous lines which relieved the tension of the play and was really funny. Altogether, the play was fine.

Davie disappeared Oct. 10 last, leaving behind scores of creditors, many of whom had given him money to invest.

He was arrested in Rio Janeiro in February and held until Boston officers armed with extradition papers from the secretary of state arrived. It was thought that he might contest extradition and the local authorities were relieved today upon learning that he had consented to return.

CHINESE ATTACKED MISSIONARY.

Rev. John Murray Believed to Have Stolen a Child.

Shanghai, April 4.—Rev. John Murray of the American Presbyterian mission at Tai-Nan-Fu was attacked by Chinese on March 28 seventeen miles north of that place. He was badly injured about the head and body and was brought back to the mission by a government escort. He is now considered out of danger. An absurd report had been circulated among the Chinese that Mr. Murray had stolen a child, and some of them set upon him while he was engaged in making his regular pastoral visits. His assailants are under arrest, and the Chinese officials are displaying the utmost solicitude for his recovery.

Washington, April 4.—President Taft enlivened the early morning proceedings of the Baltimore conference of the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday by a brief address.

"Your presiding officer," said the president, "said something of the importance of another body in this capital. It is becoming me to say anything of what may be expected of an independent branch of the government. I can make my recommendations and do as you do in your pulpits—pray for their success and best results."

In closing his remarks, he asked to be excused because, "in view of what is coming tomorrow, there may be some trimming of lamps necessary."

My Unobtrusive Typewriter

By EDWARD L. THORNTON
Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

While I was in Russia trying to get a contract for steel rails, requiring a typewriter, I engaged one who spoke a little English. I kept him busy typing letters, contracts, specifications and other such documents.

Alexis Brentowski was his name, and he was born in Russian Poland, a quiet, unobtrusive fellow, very poor and out at the elbows. I took a fancy to him and told him that if he cared to go with me I would take him to the United States and secure a position for him in the steel works I represented. He accepted the offer.

That was at a time when nihilism was threatening every man prominent in the government, from the czar down to the superintendent of police. I tried to learn something about the nihilists from Alexis, but he appeared to take no interest in what they were doing, or rather, said he did not approve of their methods. The only man he appeared enthusiastic over was Count Tolstoy, whose policy was nonresistance.

However, when I made a friend of a Russian and Alexis saw that I was with him a great deal he told me that it was dangerous to be seen with the man. When I asked him why he replied that he had heard through a police officer who was connected with the police that the man was a suspect, which meant that he was being watched by the government for complicity with nihilism. Having no wish to become a suspect myself, I dropped the man like a hot coal.

I was successful in getting an order for rails and after the contract was signed applied for permission to depart. I understood from Alexis that he had also made application. I had hired a suit of rooms which I used both for living and office apartments, and that I might at all times have my typewriter handy I gave him one of them for a sleeping room.

When the time came for my departure Alexis had not yet received his passport. I told him that I had been dealing with representatives of the government and I thought that if I told them I wished to take my typewriter position they might hurry the delivery of the document. But Alexis shook his head, saying that there was so much suspicion of persons entering and leaving Russia that my making such an application might deter rather than hasten the granting of the passport, but if I would wait a few days he was quite sure he would receive it. I told him that I must leave the next day, but since I intended to remain in London until the ship on which I had engaged passage sailed he could join me there. I offered to leave with him the price of the tickets, but he declined, saying that the money would be advanced by his relatives.

What was my surprise the next morning on arising from my bed to find the suit of clothes I had taken off the night before missing. I looked in Alexis' room; his bed had not been slept in. Had he stolen my clothes and decamped? My money was all right; he had not taken that. But my passport was gone.

I ran over the probabilities in my mind and remembered that he was about my age, height and build. I was a blond; so was he. The eyes of both were blue. Then it occurred to me that he who had worn a full beard had the day before cut it off, leaving only a moustache, as in my case. "Fearing," I said to myself, "that he would not get his passport in time to go with me, he has taken mine, made himself as much like me as possible

D. F. Davis, Barre, and Frank Roark, East Barre, will pay back your money if Seaver's Dyspepsia Tablets fail to cure dyspepsia. "Never in the history of my store," said one of the above druggists to a representative of a wholesale drug house "has there been so great a demand for any remedy as there is just now for Seaver's Dyspepsia Tablets. Barre and East Barre people are coming in every day inquiring if it is really true that we sell Seaver's Dyspepsia Tablets with the understanding that they will cure dyspepsia or pay back the money." Of course this guarantee plan is quite unusual, but we do just as we agree and we will hand back your money without the least argument if you are not decidedly benefited. "Not one person in fifty has asked for their money and it may surprise you to know that at least a dozen within the last ten days have been in to tell us how much they have been relieved, and how glad they are to know that at last there is a remedy that really will cure indigestion and dyspepsia.
